BACKDROP OF THE WORKSHOP

Education is an indicator for social transformation in every country. Twenty first century education is different from the previous centuries. The first among them is autonomy of educational institutions. India is a country where the meaning of educational autonomy is seldom understood and the concept rarely put to practice. Education for the last century was “Filling the Vessels” and now it is kindling the fire. It was formally retelling and now is discovery. Last century adopted the policy of education as information transfer which has now changed to ‘Learning to Learn’. Formerly, it was ‘Time-based’ and now ‘Outcome-based’. Former philosophy of education was memorization of discreet facts and now it is ‘what students know and what they can do’.

There is a need to shape our present educational discourse and policies around these shifts. Against this backdrop, Christ University is organizing a two-day National Workshop on Competency of Educational Leaders. The main objective of the workshop is to equip the educational leaders to the new century educational systems and practices.

The major sessions in the workshop are

1. Educational leadership
2. Personal competence to the new systems
3. Developing creativity and innovation

4. New educational technologies and creating leadership
